H. P. Whitney Asks for a Price on the Ogden Colt and Receives the Above Figures -Payette and Sir Martin May Start in the Derby-Improvements at the Track.

John E. Madden won $11,950 with his horses ayette. Sir Martin and King James at Sheepshead Bay yesterday. Fayette's share of the double event was $7,700, with $1,250 for Sir Martin, who ran second, while King James, who ran second in the Suburban, won $3,000. Fayette was cooling out in the paddock after his sterling victory Harry Payne Whitney approached Mr. Madden and said:

"How much will you take for Fayette?" "Not less than $50,000," replied the turf wizard with a smile, "and if you buy him I will guarantee not to start any of my eligibles against him in the Great Trial Stakes." "That's a pretty steep figure," said Mr. Whitney as he looked the colt over carefully. "I'll think it over."

Fayette and Sir Martin are both eligible for next year's English Derby and Mr. Madden said in all probability, unless something unforeseen happens he will take them across the ocean in the fall, but Mr. Madden has no idea of foresaking the American turf for he said that racing will never die and that he will continue to breed horses at Hamburg Place for the rich prizes to be offered in year

It was known all along that Fayette was the best two-year-old in the Madden barn. but nobody had an idea of his real prowess until he galloped off with yesterday's event. Fayette beat Sir Martin in a gallop and Sir Martin, a big stake winner this year, had disposed of all the crack youngsters in previous races. This was the twentieth running of the Double Event, the next part to be decided on July 6. It was inaugurated in 1889, the winners being Torso, Russell, His Highness, Ajax, Hornpipe, Keenan, Handspring, Ornament, Bowling Brook, Kingdon, Prince of Melbourne, Tower of Candles, Nasturtia, Mexican, Aristocracy, Song and Wine, George C. Bennett, Ballot and Firestone. Mr. Madden won this race with Prince of Melbourne and Aristocracy and also bred Mexican.

With Ballot winning $19,750 for Mr. Keene and Colin having what looks like a mortgage the $20,000 Tidal Stakes to-day it is already predicted that Mr. Keene will again head the list of winning owners this season.
According to the weight scale, Ballot accomplished a feat worth recording. He gave 14 pounds to King James, 1 pound to Fair Play, 13 to Master Robert, 12 to Dandelion, to Montgomery, 8 to Frank Gill, 9 to Running Water, 16 to Tourenne, 18 to Bedouin, 15 to Gold Lady and 21 to Ellicott. The Suburban was run in 1884 for the firs

The improvements at Sheepshead Bay have made the famous racetrack one of the finest n the world. The main track is one mile and three-quarters in circumference, while it is possible by the use of a chute to run a race of one mile and free-sixteenths with only

The clubhouse has been remodelled and enlarged, a feature being a ladies dining room on the ground floor with a café and the grandstand next to the clubhouse has been set aside for private boxes, with the usual line of boxes in the upper tier. The clubhouse enclosure has been enlarged so that the gate where badges are shown has been moved up to within a few feet of the judge's stand. That portion of space underneath the clubbouse end of the grandstand which was formerly used by trainers and horsemen has been set aside for the use of the exclusive set. The field stand has been engthened 211 feet, almost doubling the seating capacity, so that now there are seats n the various structures for more than 15,000 spectators. These improvements cost the Coney Island Jockey Club close to $200,000. Montgomery has changed hands again. Bred by F. A. Forsythe he was sold last year Emil Herz for $25,000 cash during the Bel mont Park spring meeting. After a stormy campaign Hers turned him over to S. Hildreth for $15,000 and Hildreth disposed of him yesterday to Thomas H. Williams, the California turfman, for $10,000 it is said.

McCarter proved by his performance in the Grass Selling Stakes that he is either a back number or is bordering upon a breakflown that will retire him permanently from Grappile, who also has a weak underpinning and was badly beaten at Gravesend on Friday, showed that the change to the grass course in this event was a material help to him. He ran McCarter completely off his feet in seven furlongs. Other winners of this stake were Central Trust. The Kentuckian, Nones, Swiftoff of a dead heat with Dainty, Mabel Richardson and Logistilla.

Mr. Keene started one of his supposed cracks, a colt named Wamba, by Ben Brush— Cap and Bells, in the Brambaletta, as the t race was named ,in accordance with the new policy of naming all of the overnight said that Wamba had outworked Helmet. Keene's much talked of colt, and that if he got away from the post he would win n a gallop. Wamba ran green and can do petter, but it is believed that he will have be a very high class performer to take the measure of Hillside, the winner of this race, who is said to be the best two-year-old in Mr. Whitney's barn. Outside of Hillside, Edward and Wamba the field that went to the post in the Brambaletta was made up of a poor lot.

Baby Wolf won his first race of the year when he took the opening event in a gallop-Many thought that Peter Quince, Mr. Keene's Commando colt, would take his measure, but for some unknown reason Peter Quince beaten.

It looks as if Alfred Noble has been overrated. Even with 121 pounds it was thought that he would breeze home in the Salvator at a mile. He was beaten by King Cobalt the other day and J. Lee was charged with riding him incompetently. -The club house was filled with many notables who never miss a Suburban Day. Among those present were John W. Gates, Harry Whitney, Payne Whitney, H. K. Knapp, schuyler S. COLUMBIA CREWS ROW HARD. Varsity Outpaces Freshmen in Trial-Cornell Coming Along.

POUGHKEEPSIE, June 19.—Coach Rice t his two eights over two miles and a half this evening and it could be seen by those who watched that he was pushing them to the limit. The varsity eight, as in the past, left the youngsters a great deal in the lurch. Coach Courtney sent the Cornell varsity on a three mile time row and the men finished comparatively fresh. Coach Courtney is far omparatively fresh. Coach Courtney is far from pleased with his big eight, but much will depend on how he can round them out in the next few days.

Those who have been watching the crews have begun to lean toward Syracuse and Columbia as the favorites. It is said, too, that Ellis Ward has brought the best Pennsylvania crew that he has put in the race for some seasons. To-day, however, he had to take Dean from 7 in the varsity because of illness and put in Breitinger.

Ed Ten Eyck put the Wisconsin varsity eight over four miles up stream to-night. They rowed smoothly and put great power behind their stroke. They finished in good condition. Ten Eyck would not give out even a hint at the time, not unnaturally.

The Quakers went so far down the river in evening practice that they were lost sight of. They passed down the east shore near the Syracuse bosthouse and the Syracusen the Syracuse boathouse and the Syracusans watched them closely. Slack Day for Crews at New London. NEW LONDON, June 19 .- Rough water prerented Yale from going over the four course on time again this evening. Coach Kennedy had to be contented with a half hour's practice with both eights on the river above practice with both eights on the river above quarters. The speed trial of last night was unsatisfactory, and Kennedy is anxious to give his carsmen at least one more trial before the race. Yale's freshman four has been settled upon as follows: Davis, bow; Bogue, 2: Holloway, 3, and Coleman, stroke. Lunt at 4 in Harvard's varsity eight was taken out of the boat temporarily this evening to give Coach Wray a chance to step into his seat and to row with his men a couple of miles. When Wray left the shell Lunt was put back and the coach brought out his single scull and rowed alongside the eight.

The National League clubs assumed a more compact formation yesterday. The Cardinals more than had their hands full in Boston, and the Reds shut out the Philadelphias for the second time in succession. The results;

NEW YORK (N. L.), 6; CHICAGO (N. L.), 3. The New Yorks had the Chicago fielders pawing the air at the Polo Grounds yester-day and they polished off the Cubs in neat style. They hit sharp ones past the Chiday and they polished off the Cubs in neat style. They hit sharp ones past the Chicagoans' ears, bounced the ball over their heads, sped it along to the side of them and in general bingled it where they weren't. They had the champions reeling, and in addition they gave Crandall effugent, effervescent support. Si Seymour made a gorgeous catch in the fifth inning that broke up a well meant effort of the Cubs to tie the score, and they weren't the same old Cubs after that highwayman performance. Si also put his team strictly in the game with a timely hit.

There were several individual plays on which a good deal hinged besides Seymour's corruscating catch and opportune hit. Cap Chance made a two sided combination error which was followed by runs, Jack Pflester mismanaged a bunt at the expense of a tally and Schulte made a frenzied throw holly out of the reach of anybody which entered a run on our side of the ledger. It was a back-siding game for the champs. There wasn't a strikeout throughout the length and breadth of the frolic. Nary an athlete sawed three strips in space. The strength of Crandall's pitching lay in his ability to shut down on the hitting with men on bases.

Crandall settled down to business right after Johnny Evers had begun with an infield hit and Johnny was left at third. Crandall had a hit by Siagle and an error by Doyle to counteract in the second, and did so well that the ball wasn't knocked beyond the diamond. Devlin scored for the New Yorks in the second on a base on balls, Pflester's fumble of shannon's jumper and a hard single to centre by Bridwell. Shannon tried to come in too on the hit, but Hofman threw him out.

Evers was caught napping of first in the first while of the second and one out. He ran out for Hofman threw him out.

Evers was caught napping of first in the first while a summary and the him and the second and the second half of the inning Bridwell first up, chopped a hit through the box. Crandall raised a fly back of first base which Chance his head and the proceed cautiou cagoans' ears, bounced the ball over their heads, sped it along to the side of them and

Crandall had the Cubs where the hair was short. He wouldn't stand for a rally. Doyle nabbed Chance's fly—a good catch—Steinfeldt was thrown out by Bridwell, Hofman scoring, and a scratch hit by Slagle brought in Schulte. That was all. The New Yorks were very steady, the inning ending with a foul from Kling to Bresnahan. The score:

The Brooklyns landed a well earned victory at the expense of the Pirates yesterday, for they had to fight hard to win. It was a trying tussle, and one that eventually was captured by the Brooklyns largely because Rucker was impregnable when men were on bases. The Pittsburgs often were on the verge of taking the game away from the home players, but Rucker held them at bay. The Brooklyns made two of their runs in the third inning. Alperman singled, Bergen sacrificed and Rucker was scaiped by Wagner. Then hits by Burch and Pattee and a poor return by Wilson resulted in two runs. The winning run was made in the seventh inning and was due to Bergen's two bagger and Burch's one bagger. The score: BROOKLYN, 3; PITTSBURG, 2.

turned the trick by allowing the Highlanders only three hits. He appears to be back in form once again.

New York opposed Dineen with Chesbro. Jack had two bad innings and that was enough to give the Browns their four runs. Chesbro had no complaint to make of his fielding support, as the latter was up to the average and his defeat was due to the fact that the hits were bunched just right on him when he was none too steady.

'aughan, Griffith's new recruit from Hot Springs, went in the box in the eighth inning. He was wild, but showed much speed and a lot of curves. Good fielding pulled him through, after he had filled up the bases on three passes, He looks to be a valuable youngster. The score:

Travis and Hicks Tie in the Qualifying Round-New Record for Forest Hills in East Jersey Competition—Tiffany and McAlpin in Hudson River Final.

No less than nine sets of eight qualified at the Nassau Country Club tournament yesterday, three cups being added to the original allotment so that none should left' short of a match. The cups bore the names once borne by the trophies at the Queens County Golf Club, the predecessor of the present club, but even the old days seldom witnessed a larger and more en-thusiastic company. Matters progressed briskly, yet some of the matches were caught n the gloaming.

There was a terrific race between Travis and Hicks, the Nassau veteran, for the score medal in the qualifying round. The result was a tie at 73, Hicks getting a 3 on the home green to Travis's 4. Their cards were:

Travis and Jennings had a good match, but the former champion was well on his game and added a 72 to the fine work of the morning, getting the match by 4 and 3. Jennings did 77. Travis was out in 38 and home in 34, having a 2 on the tenth and finishing with a brace of 3s. Hicks was not so fortunate, for Wild, the young and tall Crawford crack, beat him on the twentieth hole. Allen beat Gardner, and Sawyer won by 1 up from Evans. Both Herreshoff and Douglas won their matches, the latter recording 39, 35—74. The summaries:

Five sets of eight qualified in the East Jersey Golf Association tournament yesterday at the Forest Hill Field Club. An unexpected happening was that A. W. Maine of Canoe Brook, the titleholder, falled to get higher than the third set and then lost at match play. M. A. Wilson of New Brunswick led the qualifiers with 79, and F. W. Baldwin of Glen Ridge was next with 80. At match play Baldwin beat his clubmate. A. M. Uhler, by 8 up and 7, while he established a new amateur record for the cruise of 35, 41-78.

Kentucky Bars Bookmakers.

LEXINGTON, Ky., June 19 .- The State Racing Commission took a firm hold on racing in Kentucky here to-day. Members of the racing commission did not fancy the idea of rejustating the bookmakers and a special meeting was called, at which all the members were present. Harvey Meyers, vice-president of the Latonia Jockey Club, asked that Latonia be allowed to put the bookies on, because, as he showed, the club was losing about $230 a day under the pari mutuel betting system. The commission refused to comply with the request and passed a rule, becoming effective at once, permitting betting on its licensed tracks only by the pari mutuel and auction pool systems. It amended a former rule, however, allowing a cut in the value of the prizea offered each day to $400 on an average. It is feared that the banishing of bookmaking will kill the old Lexington course, where only small betting is popular. a special meeting was called, at which all

BUREAU OF TOURS PLEASURE JAUNT STARTS.

Automobile Club of America Members Bo-gin Thousand Mile Journey Through New England by Easy Dally Trips -Contest Feature Entirely Eliminated.

Many fair passengers occupied seats in the cars that started away from the clubbouse of the Automobile Club of America yesterday morning on the "ideal tour" arranged by the A. C. A. bureau of tours. The cars began leaving the clubhouse in Fifty-fourth street between Broadway and Eighth avenue at 9 o'clook and there was a noticeable absence of the feverish haste usually seen at the start of touring events these days, which are generally such strenuous affairs that they hardly desuch strenuous affairs that they hardly deserve the name of tours. The tourists of the A. C. A. "ideal tour" are really touring, however, and as the contest feature has been entirely eliminated none of them has any ever, and as the contest feature has been entirely eliminated none of them has any need of hurrying, as the daily trips are all easy ones, only three of the day's runs being more than one hundred miles.

In order to do away with the dust nuisance as far as is possible the low powered care will start first every morning, the medium powered ones next and the high powered ones last, so that all the tourists will arrive at the luncheon stop at about the same time. After luncheon the order of starting will be reversed and all of the tourists will have plenty of time to make the afternoon run in time to reach the night stopping places for dinner.

Waterbury, Conn., was the stopping place last night and to-day the tourists will drive through the Berkshire Hills to Manchester. Vt., where they will remain to-night. Tomorrow night will be spent at Sunapee Lake, N. H., and the other night stops will be made at Bretton Woods is the White Mountains; Poland Springs, Me.: Portsmouth, N. H.; Boston and Waterbury.

Stephen Joy of New York who accompanied the tourists part of the way yesterday in a Stanley steamer, ran down an embankment on the Dugout road at Beacom Palls. The accident was due to the reverse getting beyond his control. Mr. Joy and a companion were severely shaken up and bruised but escaped serious injury.

companion were severely shaken up and bruised but escaped serious injury.

Much regret is felt by the Lowell motorists over the forced postponement of their July 4 road race. Notwithstanding the efforts of Congressman Butler Amos, who is the moving spirit in the recently organized Lowell Automobile Club, the use of Massachusetts State troops to guard the ten mile course was refused by Lieut.-Gov. Draper. Soldiers were regarded as essential to the holding of this contest, as the crowds at the five mile races last year held over a part of the proposed course resulted in a serious accident to A. E. Morrison, who while making the fastest time of the day turned out to avoid the crowd at a turn, thus wrecking his car and severely injuring himself.

Lowell, however, hardly needs the advertisement of a race to induce automobilists to tour in the Merrimac Valley. The route from Boston to Lowell is beautiful scenically and from Lowell down the river there is a stretch of road that is perfect for speeding, Lowell, pursuing a broader policy than its sister town of Leicester, has never had a case of arrest due to auto speeding, and Bostonians use the five miles of river road, which is wide and has but one turn, to try out their cars. New York motorists who are now of the Automobile Club of America's tour will pass over this stretch and it is expected thas they will find it the best of the whole route.

Portland, Ore., motorists desire to get into

Portland, Ore., motorists desire to get into the racing field. The Wemme cup, which was confined strictly to local dealers this year, is to be thrown open in the future not only to the whole country but also to Europe. The course is fifteen miles in circumference and was covered seven times. Squads of Oregon State troops afforded absolute protection and no accident marred the sport. The 100 mile race for the Wemme cup was won by Harry Bell with a Studebaker, while another car of the same make finished second and a White third. Bell won the race at an average spect of 49 miles an hour.

As they can offer a practically perfect course, military protection and a handsome cup, Portland's chances of securing entries for a big road race should be good in another year, especially as there is room for a big race in the West. This is true both from the point of view of the sport and also from the point of view of the manufacturer who is casting covetous eyes into the Western territory, the motor buying possibilities of which have not yet been fully developed.

Motorists have thought that cars with Motorists have thought that cars with Motorists have thought that cars with limousine bodies were not adapted for fast speeding, but Paul E. De Fere, a New York lawyer, recently proved this to be a mistaken idea. While driving his Hotehkiss limousine to his home on Long Island he speeded the machine, as he was in a hurry. Before he had travelled: many miles he was halted by a motor cycle policeman and taken before a Magistrate, where he was charged with "driving his car at the rate of sixty-one miles an hour." He paid a fine without any argument.

The Savannah automobilists have taken hold of preparations for the Automobile Club of America's Grand Prize race with great enthusiasm. Following the receipt of a telegram from Robert Lee Morrell to the effect that the contract had been signed for the race to take place on Thanksgiving Day, the Savannah Automobile Club officials got into immediate touch with the Road Commissioners of Chatham county and the latter agreed to start work on the course. Eight miles, chiefly of new road, will be built on the southern end of the course used this spring, making a total circuit mileage of 26% miles. Plans were also formed at once for the enlargement of the grand stand to seat 7,000 persons, and other details were also discussed. The race will be for 400 miles, a greater distance than yet held in America. The roads will be ready for use by the race drivers in November.

Mrs. Joan Newton Cuneo, who has achieved some fame as a driver in large tours and track races, has instituted a campaign to have the racing board of the American Automobile Association remove the embargo on women race drivers, or at least to have the rule of the board made fiexible so as to admit women as drivers at the discretion of race promoters, provided the applicant can furnish satisfactory evidence of her ability to control a car at speed and her experience and coolness.
